17 Villages Fall In Yank Sweep

By WES GALLAGHER

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, July 5 (AP)—The American First Army has battled the Germans out of 17 villages and hamlets in its explosive assault down the Cherbourg peninsula during the past 24 hours, driving the Germans back to within one mile of La Haye du Puits.

On the eastern extreme of the bridgehead front, Canadians fought hand-to-hand today with stubbornly resisting Germans for Carpiquet airfield three miles from Caen while British to the south beat off new German tank attacks with heavy enemy losses.

Gen. Bradley's tireless American doughboys, attacking in a jagged 20-mile arc from Carentan to the west coast of the Cherbourg peninsula, advanced from one-half mile to 2½ miles in swampy, canal-creased country.

HEAVY RESISTANCE

American columns converging on La Haye du Puits were within two miles of the town on the west, three miles on the north, a mile on the northwest and three miles on the east. Capture of the town appeared imminent.

Progress was far from easy. The Germans resisted heavily in all sectors, and a particularly violent engagement was going on a half-mile south of newly-occupied St. Jores, east of La Haye.

The long-quiet Carentan sector erupted into bloody fighting when the Americans launched an attack down the Carentan-Periers road. The doughboys advanced half a mile in an attack starting at noon yesterday.

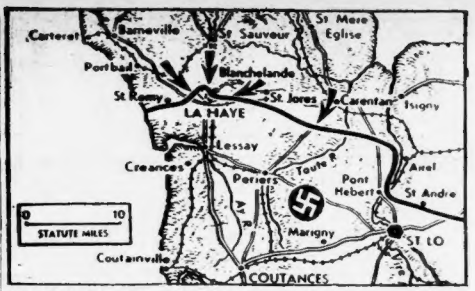
Each foot of the advance had to be covered with artillery. Swamps and canals channelized the fighting to the narrow area along the road.

SMASH COUNTERS

In the Carentan - Tilly - sur - Seulles sector there was only patrol activity.

East of Gavrus at the butt of the Odon river bridgehead, the Germans launched a night counter-attack, but it was smashed by Gen. Montgomery's big gun batteries. Another similar attack to the south three hours later also was smashed.

"The Germans have lost a large number of men killed and considerable numbers of tanks," the Allied supreme command said in describing the repulse of a long series of German counter-attacks.



FRANCE—Map details the American assault down the Cherbourg peninsula in France. Arrows indicate the drives from three directions on La Haye, western anchor of German defenses in Normandy and the new attack along the road to Periers in the Carentan sector.

'Won't Quit,' Hitler Vows

LONDON, July 5 (AP)—Adolf Hitler, in a second speech within a week, declared that "we shall not capitulate before any difficulty," but acknowledged that "enormous courage and strength of nerves are necessary to stand up in these times," Berlin radio said today.

His speech, not delivered to the German people, was reported by Nazi broadcasts, which said it was made to a meeting of th eReich's war production leaders. The time was not disclosed, nor was the text broadcast, Berlin giving only what excerpts it wanted to reach foreign ears.

Not since Jan. 30 has the German leader spoken directly to his people. He warned them then that they faced the "hardest task imaginable."

Just last Saturday night, the German radio reported a speech given by Hitler at the funeral of Gen. Eduard Dietl, Nazi commander in Finland, in which he sounded the same note of "difficult" situations facing Germany. The date and place of that address were not given.

A German transocean broadcast recorded today by the Associated Press said Hitler received the production chiefs at his headquarters "This war cannot be judged on daily events," Hitler was quoted as saying. "In a battle of such historical extent a timely success or defeat does not make any difference. In this war of destiny for the German people everyone must fight and work for final victory.

"I know that enormous courage and strength of nerves are necessary to stand up in these times, but we shall not capitulate before any difficulty."

Speaking of "the courageous German soldiers" at the front he asked:

"Should the German leadership which has been lucky enough to say for four years that we have had only successes now say that we will fail?"

In answer he said:

"No. We will triumph this time and in the end win this war."

Hitler asserted this war was not only one of soldiers but also of engineers and technicians. He said in this respect the Allies sometimes were as efficient and on rare occasions better than the Germans "but the German inventive spirit is on its way to regain the balance again."

Lash Nazi Robot Bases, Airfields

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

LONDON, July 5 (AP)—American Fortresses and Liberators bombed airfields in Holland and Belgium, rocket bomb nests and other targets in the Pas-de-Calais Department of France today in swift continuance of devastating attacks by the RAF from the channel coast to the German Ruhr.

Up to 500 U. S. planes, half heavy bombers and half convoying fighters, carried out the forenoon assault in cloudy weather with opposition so scant that all returned. Other fighter formations dive-bombed and strafed a variety of targets at undisclosed points in Europe, again without loss.

British heavy and light bombers struck before dawn at railroads, troop bivouacs and rocket bomb launching platforms, and a synthetic oil plant in the Ruhr.

During the sweeping overnight operations, which climaxed a July 4 display of aerial might in which nearly 5000 planes ranged over the continent, RAF Lancasters and Halifaxes pounded railway yards at Villeneuve St. George on the outskirts of Paris and at Orleans.

His Peace Job

AN AMERICAN AIR BASE IN ITALY, July 5 (AP)—Filling out a routine biographical form, Capt. Almon S. Farrar, 51, of Shreveport, La., came to the question: "Civilian occupation."

Thinking back over his 35 years in the Army, Farrar pondered a moment, and then wrote: "Child."

Vatican Stores Art Treasures

ROME, July 5 (AP)—Italian art treasures, including the headless and armless Venus from Cicerne and many Raphael paintings, have been stored in the basement of a Vatican museum to save them from the ravages of war.

More than 700 cases of the art treasures, transported from various parts of Italy through what the official Vatican statement termed "teh intervention of German military forces of occupation," are in the relatively new museum built by the late Pope ius XI.

2 Red Armies Menace Wilno

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, July 5 (AP)—Two powerful Russian armies pounded on today toward Latvia and Lithuania, at a pace that may reach one or both of the Baltic republics in three or four days, and menaced the old Polish city of Wilno.

(Some 200 miles to the south, the German high command said, Nazi forces evacuated Kowel in old Poland. Moscow made no reference to Kowel. Berlin also declared the Russians had landed on five islands in Narva bay, between Estonia and Finland. The Russians crossed the Estonian frontier last winter, pounding close to Narva on the bay.

(The DNB broadcast said counter-attacking Finns regained two islands, Melansaari and Lammasaari, with heavy fighting continuing on a third, Teikassari. Light Finnish naval forces and German naval craft "successfully engaged" Soviet supply traffic, it added.)

Field dispatches declared the Germans appeared wholly unable to halt Red drives toward Latvia and Lithuania.

Russian planes hammered Wilno (Vilna) in softening-up attacks.

Beating back disorganized German resistance, Gen. Bagramian's First Baltic Army pressed up the valley of the western Dvina toward Daugavpils (Dvinsk), rail junction in southeastern Latvia, while to the south Gen. Chernikhovsky's Third White Russian Army made fast progress toward Wilno (Vilna), in Poland, and Kaunas, capital of Lithuania.

(By London estimates the advancing Red Army troops were within 10 miles of the Latvian border and 15 or 17 miles from Lithuania).

25 Million Blast In Dane Harbor

STOCKHOLM, July 5 (AP)—The Free Danish press service asserted today that a German munitions ship blew up in Aarhus harbor yesterday causing damage estimated at close to $25,000,000.

First reports from underground sources indicated that at least 80 persons were killed and 300 injured by the blast which damaged possibly 1000 buildings in Aarhus, the second city of Denmark, and set fire to several other vessels in the harbor.

Earlier the news agency had said that order and normal conditions were returning to Copenhagen after a five-day general strike and disturbances which forced concessions from German occupation authorities.

Bulk of Lend-Lease Food to British, Reds

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—Despite the competition with pre-invasion war war material for shipping space, lend-lease food flowed in a steady stream to our Allies during the first five months of this year.

Most lend-lease food went to the United Kingdom and the Soviet Union, the United States continuing to supply about 10 per cent of British food needs. In the five months the United States shipped as lendlease 9.3 per cent of our supply of meats, a slight reduction from 1943.

Great Fire Sweeps Jap Iisaka Resort

NEW YORK, July 5 (AP)—A Tokyo broadcast said that a disastrous fire had ravaged the Fukushima prefecture resort of Iisaka Hot Springs in Northern Honshu during the night of July 1, destroying 193 buildings, including 19 hotels.

Property damage was estimated at 6,000,000 yen, said the broadcast. The yen had a pre-war value of about 23 cents.

Japs on Saipan in Last Stand

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

ABOARD JOINT EXPEDITIONARY FORCE FLAGSHIP OFF SAIPAN, July 5 (INS)—The Japs dug into their last possible defensive positions on Saipan today for a final gesture for the emperor as victory-hungry American Marine and Army troops pushed fast into the mountainous north tip of the island after racing through rear guardists in Garapan and Tanapag harbor Navy base.

The advance into the final battle came as American naval power struck a heavy blow at the Jap base of Iwo Jima, 645 miles from Yokohama.

One fast carrier group got nine intercepting airplanes plus 16 probables, and another got 24 and one on the ground.

Two small vessels were strafed and a fuel dump bombed as growing American might spilled over the western Pacific closer to the enemy's homeland.

The Japs were forced to evacuate Garapan and Tanapag by a continuing naval, air and artillery bombardment and increasing infantry pressure.

The second Marine division pushed through Garapan against scattered rear-guard elements. The fourth Marine division and 27th Army infantry division swept ahead toward the mountains on Marpi Point.

There the Japs were heavily concentrated in relatively small areas and their problem was complicated by several thousand civilians re-treating with them.

Tanks were massed near the front lines and many people were jammed around towers, buildings and defense installations. Japs manned caves all along the route.

Americans continued capturing heavy stores of food and ammunition, indicating the Japs remain well supplied right to the island's tip.

The Japs really didn't leave defensive positions at Tanapag naval base. There weren't any left. I've seen destruction in this war, but never anything comparable to Tanapag harbor, which was leveled literally. For three weeks naval, air and artillery bombardment beat Tanapag, one of the Japs' great secret Pacific bases.

The troops were interested in seven wrecked Kawanishis, Japan's huge four-eigined flying boat.

Five vessels were burning at one time yesterday.

Ely Asks Jury To Free Noxon

By PAULINE WARREN

PITTSFIELD, July 5—Before a packed courtroom and with throngs outside waiting a chance for admittance, former Gov. Joseph B. Ely began his plea today for the life of John F. Noxon, Jr., wealthy corporation lawyer charged with murder in the electrocution of his abnormal infant son.

A tense courtroom heard the former governor refer pointedly to the absence today of Mrs. Margaret Noxon, the defendant's wife, who finally was forced to remain home last week because of illness after attending almost every session of the month-long trial.

"The black mantle of murder does not fit the circumstances in this case," declared Ely as he urged the jurors to consider the ordeal which Noxon and his wife had undergone in the tragic death of the child, the subsequent lengthy police questioning—"on the very day of the infant's funeral"—and the earlier mistrial and present trial.

UNDER TERRIBLE STRAIN

"I want you to understand the terrible strain it has been for her," he said. "Today she is not here and the district attorney has a right to comment on her absence and draw his own conclusions."

"She's not here and she has not testified. Today she sits alone—waiting the outcome of this trial."

Ely told the jurors he had entered the case with a firm conviction of Noxon's innocence and asserted they should remember that in a case of circumstantial evidence, the alleged crime not only must be proven but proven beyond reasonable doubt.

As final arguments opened in the case, experts estimated the cost of the trial to Berkshire County would be between $45,000 and $48,000. The figures include the cost of the first hearing, which ended in a mistrial last March because of the recurrent illness of a juror.

TO SUE—Filmstress Helen Gilbert will seek a divorce from her attorney husband, Seymour Chotiner, it was reported in Hollywood today. They were married in July, 1942.

Held for Jilt Shots

Charged with the "love row" shooting of his brother-in-law and the latter's bride, Abner S. Gammons, 60, one-armed war worker, was held in $50,000 bail today by Judge Curtis W. Nash in Woburn District Court.

Appearing without counsel, Gammons pleaded not guilty to assault with intent to murder Richard E. Cherry, 57, of Hancock st., Stoneham, and his wife, Ada, 63.

The case was continued to July 19 at the request of Police Chief J. Clarence Nelson, partly because Mrs. Cherry's condition is still serious.

She was taken to the New England Sanitarium, Stoneham, with a bullet in her back after Gammons, according to police, invaded the Cherry home Monday night with a loaded revolver and wounded the wife and husband.

The couple had been married only Saturday, with Gammons in the role of rejected suitor, police said.

He was taken to East Cambridge jail from Woburn court. A former resident of Reading and Wakefield, he gave his address as Arlington st., Newton Center.

Gen. Ike Flies Over War Lines

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, July 5 (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower returned to his headquarters today after celebrating the Fourth of July by flying with Maj. Gen. Elwood Quesada on aan observation trip over the Normandy battle area.

ACTRESS ILL—June Clyde, film actress, was ill of pneumonia in Hollywood today, forcing her to cancel a scheduled overseas trip to entertain U. S. troops.

Eisenhower flew in a Mustang over the combat area with Quesada, chief of the U. S. Ninth Air Force fighter command.

Eisenhower also made a trip by road which took him past an enemy pocket of resistance on the American sector of western Cherbourg peninsula.

On the aerial jaunt, the supreme commander and the young, intrepid Quesada led a flight which included six other planes.

PLANE BUILT FOR ONE

It was believed to have been Eisenhower's first flight over the area, and the first in which two generals flew in a plane built for one person.

During his visit in France, Eisenhower conferred with Gen. Montgomery, commanding all ground forces, and Lt. Gen. Bradley, commander of the American First Army.

the bridehead.

Eisenhower spent five days on Col. George R. Bickell, Nutley, N. J., led a second element of the Mustang flight. All pilots returned safely.

Cheerful and thrilled over the experience, Eisenhower asked who was the leading ace of the group, and was told it was Capt. Don M. Beerbower, Hill City, Minn., with 18 planes to his credit.

"Get them all in the air, son?" Eisenhower asked.

ONE NANTUCKET FLIER

Beerbower, who leads the Ninth Air Force in number of kills, said he got 16 in the air and two aground.

Eisenhower praised the performance of the Mustang group, recently awarded a citation for outstanding operations.

Prisoner Fails In Escape Swim

Leo McGaffigan, 21, of Whitten st., Dorchester, was back for treatment at Long Island hospital today after his vain escape attempt ended in capture in harbor waters.

A Deer Island prisoner, he had been under treatment for a fractured jaw. He had swum several miles before police heard his cries and pulled him from the water.

At first he said he was a member of a Liberty Ship crew and that he and two shipmates had jumped ship to get home for the holiday. A search for his pals began until a check with Navy intelligence officers revealed his story untrue.

Turkey Adopts Boy Quins

LONDON, July 5 (AP)—The Berlin radio, which yesterday reported the birth of quintuplets in a remote Turkish village, said today the children were to be adopted by the Turkish government.

A bill for this purpose already has been prepared and Premier Sukru Saracoglu has personally ordered the dispatch of doctors and nurses to care for the infants—all boys—said the broadcast.

Steinhardt Heads Home

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—Laurence A. Steinhardt, American ambassador to Turkey, is on his way home for consultations, but the State Department said his return involved no question of relations between the United States and Turkey.

Mental Test In Wife-Shooting

Pleading not guilty to a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon with intent to murder his wife, Frank Di Francisco, 46, Market st., Cambridge, war worker, was ordered to Boston Psychopathic Hospital for 10 days' observation today by Judge Arthur P. Stone in East Cambridge court.

His 36-year-old wife, Alice, was reported slightly improved today at Cambridge City Hospital, but doctors said her condition still would not permit an operation for removal of a second bullet lodged in her chest.

One bullet was removed Monday at the same time Di Francisco was surrendering at Framingham state police barracks after being missed since last Friday, the day of the shooting, which police said climaxed a family quarrel.

Yanks Sink 5 Ships in Bonins

By Associated Press

An American fleet spoiling for battle has stabbed into Japan's Bonin Islands, 615 miles from Tokyo to destroy five ships, 88 planes and to deliver another compelling invitation for the Japanese navy to come out and fight.

The alarmed Tokyo radio today said the Fourth of July carrier plane-warship attack was still going on.

All four of the Pacific war fronts flamed into action, but the thrust of Adm. Raymond Spruance's Fifth Fleet task forces into the Bonins and adjacent Volcano islands was a slap in the face the Jap admirals could hardly ignore.

Paratroop landings on Noemfoor island in Gen. MacArthur's domain, imminent finish of the Saipan invasion and important gains in Burma filled out the picture of heightened Allied pressure on the enemy's buckling defenses. Only in China were the Japs successfully on the offensive.

Adm. Nimitz announced the Bonin-Volcano raids. On July 3 carrier planes blasted Iwo Jima in the Volcano group, destroying probably 79 planes against a loss of three.

The next day cruisers and destroyers moved in close to shell Iwo Jima's warehouses and harbor installations. Carrier planes firing rockets also hit Iwo Jima and flew northward to thump Haha Jima and destroy 25 more planes, against a loss of six.

These scores brought to 826 the number of enemy planes downed since the Saipan operations began June 10 and the toll of ships to 36. Three vessels knocked out July 4 were destroyers.

Tokyo declared without confirmation a powerful U. S. task force was still prowling off Chichi Jima, main island of the Bonin group, and that severe fighting continues.

Paratroops dropped on Noemfoor to back up Sixth Army troops driving toward their second airport on the island, which lies 800 miles from the Philippines. Parachute landing of troops has been rarely used in the Pacific.

Chungking said its troops captured a village 22 miles west of Tengchung, narrowing to 26 miles the gap between these forces and Gen. Stilwell's troops in Burma. The latter, Chungking mentioned, has a force at Sanon, 31 miles east of Myitkyina. Sanon and the captured village, Channsi, possibly indicate the route of the projected Ledo-Burma road Stilwell is straining to get in operation.

Chinese surrounded in Hengyang refused to yield the city, Chungking said, despite fierce assaults of infantry, artillery and poison gas.

Central America Unrest Spreads

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, July 5 (AP)—Unrest was reported spreading today through the Central American republics of Honduras and Nicaragua, and information available here indicated the presidents of both may have resigned.

A dispatch from El Salvador to the Costa Rican newspaper Prensa Libre said Gen. Tiburcio Carias Andino, president of Honduras, already had quit, delegating his powers to Vice-President Abraham Williams.

The Salvadorean radio announced later a passive resistance movement had sprung up in Nicaragua against President Anastasio Somoza. Nicaraguans here said his resignation was expected momentarily.

Causes of the unrest in Honduras and Nicaragua were not immediately apparent. In neighboring Guatemala last week an uprising followed suspension of constitutional guarantees by President Jorge Ubico and he resigned.

Robots Saved Fatherland In Crisis, Says Nazi Paper

By WADE WERNER

MADRID, July 5 (AP)—A big achievement of the German flying bomb offensive has been that it has saved the Nazi regime—at least temporarily—from an internal crisis of the utmost gravity, according to reports from Germany.

The situation is frankly stated in the latest issue of Das Schwarze Korps, mouthpieces of the German SS (Elite Corps).

In an article discussing aspects of internal morale during months of waiting for fulfillment of Hitler's pledge of retaliation for Allied destruction of German cities, the publication declares this pledge involved for the Nazis "a question of prestige and a test of strength of the highest order."

A failure to launch the promised retaliation, Das Schwarze Korps adds, would have been catastrophic, for the Nazi regime would "have lost a good share of its standing—above all among its own people."

The article describes the mixed reaction among the German population to "the months and months of waiting" during which the new weapon was trumpeted but failed to appear. Some, it said, were highly enthusiastic but were plunged into deep pessimism by the delay. Others were skeptical.

Despite the success claimed for the weapon, the SS organ lays the groundwork for possible later disillusionment and warns against being influenced by those "to whom success won't be swift enough and the results sufficiently impressive."

Churchill Robot Talk Slated Tomorrow

LONDON, July 5 (AP) — The volume of flying bomb attacks on southern England diminished last night as it had the night before and belief was expressed in some quarters today that Prime Minister Winston Churchill might hint at the reason in a statement to Commons tomorrow.

Some members of Commons were understood to be ready to ask for a secret session if Churchill fails to give what they consider sufficient information. Both the public and Commons showed impatience with the delay.

Yanks, British Gain On Front in Italy

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

ROME, July 5 (INS)—Allied armies in Italy met violent resistance from the Germans today but nevertheless steadily advanced to within five miles of the town of Arezzo and to within approximately 10 miles of Livorno (Leghorn).

British Eighth Army elements converging on the Arezzo road junction made their closest approach from the south after occupying Castiglione Fiorentino.

As the Americans battled against stiff enemy opposition below Livorno, fighting was centered at Rosignano, 11 miles south of the key Tyrrhenian port.

Further inland, other units of the Fifth Army battled for Casole Delsa, which changed hands several times. French elements continued their advance east of captured Siena despite rain and muddy roads.

On the Adriatic sector, Polish troops of the Eighth Army encountered stiff resistance in their drive toward the port of Ancona. For the last three days, the fight has centered in the vicinity of Osimo, eight miles below the Adriatic seaport.

"Difficult terrain" still bars the Allied approach to Ancona, headquarters announced.

Allied warplanes, ignoring adverse weather, continued to attack German communication and supply lines in northern Italy and in the battle areas, as well as in Yugoslavia.

Holiday Week-end Costs 439 Lives

By the Associated Press

America celebrated a comparatively safe Fourth of July with 439 persons meeting death in accidents throughout the country over the long holiday week-end, less than half the toll expected by the National Council of Safety. But the fatality record was 141 more than last year.

Traffic fatalities again headed the list, 170 reported in 38 states and the District of Columbia. Drownings claimed 140 lives. No fatality from fireworks was reported.

Bond Sales Lag, 4 Days to Go

Massachusetts war bond sales in the Fifth War Loan drive have risen to $700,900,000, with four days remaining to reach the state's quota, war finance committee officials announced today.

The committee issued a special appeal for an increase in individual purchases during the closing days of the drive, explaining that Series E sales to date have been $40,900,000, or only 36.5 per cent of the quota for that type of purchase. The E bond quota for the state is $112,000,000.

War bond buying by industrial firms and other nonindividual purchasers are largely resonsible, the committee said, for the success thus far in reaching the state's $829,000,000 total quota.

Hitler Cuts Supply Units

ROME, July 5 (AP)—On Hitler's orders, the German army has sharply reduced the strength of supply services and rear echelon units in order to find more frontline troops to replace battle losses, the Allied command in Italy disclosed today.

Documents taken by the Fifth Army, headquarters said, showed these steps had begun months ago:

A 20 per cent reduction in strength of the rear echelon of combat units.

A 25 per cent reduction in the strength of all supply units.

Immediate transfer without replacement of the men of the 1914 class and younger from rear echelons and supply units.

Preparation for transfer from the same units of all soldiers of the 1906-13 classes.

Vet Hospitals For 2 N. E. States

WASHINGTON, July 5 (INS)—Brig. Gen. Hines, veterans' administrator, announced his administration has recommended a $70,000,000 veterans' hospital expansion program calling for construction in 20 States.

Largest hospital request ever made by the veterans' office, the program is made possible by the G. I. Bill of Rights, which authorizes appropriation of $500,000,000 for servicemen's hospitals.

Under the program, new veterans' hospitals will be built in Rhode Island, New Hampshire and 18 other states.

Britain Recalls Envoy to Argentina

LONDON, July 5 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Eden told the House of Commons today that the British ambassador to Argentina was returning home immediately for consultations.

"Before he goes back I shall take the opportunity to review with him all aspects of relations with Argentina with particular reference to their bearing on the war," Eden told a questioner. "Until I have completed this review I prefer to make no further statement."

RAF Bombers Sow Mines, Block Kiel Canal Shipping

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, July 5 (AP)—RAF Mosquito bombers, carrying mines for the first time, blocked traffic in Germany's Kiel canal for 10 days in a swift, low-level attack on that "most heavily-defended waterway in the world" less than a month before the invasion of France.

Only one of the plywood bombers was lost from a single Mosquito squadron staging the attack May 12, the British air ministry disclosed today, estimating that "not less than 1,000,000 metric tons of cargo to and from overseas, and about half that amount of coastwise cargo were held up."

The canal connects the Baltic and North seas. The mines were sowed along a 3½-mile stretch at the Baltic end, and aerial photographs indicated that after a barge blew up in the waterway, more than 100 ships were halted. The feat halted movement of Swedish iron ore and coal.

The air ministry said Lancasters mined Konigsberg canal April 10, blocking it for 15 days when the Russians were driving the Germans back in the Leningrad sector.

The Kiel undertaking was as remarkable as the breaching of German dams in the Ruhr valley in May, 1943, by the RAF, the ministry said. The Mosquito crews got special training by dropping dummies on English canals.

TREES STRIPPED AND UPROOTED BY DYNAMITE BLAST
Sabotage Suspected in Explosion at Bedford, N. H.

Saboteurs Hunted In Dynamite Blast

BEDFORD, N. H., July 5—Fearful that saboteurs are responsible, military and state authorities today probed a blast at the John B. Varick Cotorage plant, where 15,000 pounds of dynamite shattered buildings and glass and terrorized residents within a wide radius.

Maj. Dwight Comstock of the New Hampshire state police said the isolated storage plant was so heavily reinforced that the dynamite could have been touched off only by violent impact or a time bomb. It was reported that locks on a dynamite cap shed a mile away showed signs of tampering.

BLASTS DEEP HOLE

At the spot where the shed stood is a huge crater, 15 feet deep, 30 feet wide and 150 feet long. Bits of the steel shed were found miles away.

Although the blast was heard and windows were rattled as far off as Worcester, 70 miles away, the biggest panic was caused at Bedford Grove and in Manchester.

Dancers at Bedford Grove, two miles away, dove for shelter after seeing a blinding flash. Most of them thought a Nazi robot rocket had landed, or that Grenier Air Field at Manchester had been bombed.

The concussion ripped out 100 plate glass windows along Elm st., Manchester, the city's main thoroughfare. Glass damage alone was estimated at $25,000 by Police Chief James F. O'Neil of Manchester.

CUT BY FLYING GLASS

No one is known to have died in the blast, but several persons suffered cuts from flying glass or bruises as they rushed from their homes. Those treated at hospitals all were released.

The dynamite was the property of the duPont Co. and was being distributed by the Varick Co., a Manchester hardware firm.

FBI agents were in the area looking for escaped German war prisoners, since recaptured, but the Boston office of the FBI said that since no government contracts were involved, they had no jurisdiction to probe the explosion.

2 Bay Staters Named To Italy Relief Board

Municipal Judge Frank W. Tomasello of Boston today was notified of his election to the board of directors of American Relief for Italy, Inc.

Another Massachusetts resident, William Phillips of North Beverly, former U. S. ambassador to Italy, was also elected to the board.

Mrs. Higginson Making Gain

Mrs. Frances Lee Higginson, Jr., fighting for her life at New England Deaconess Hospital as the result of a brutal attack June 15 at her West Cornwall, Ct., estate, may recover sufficiently to identify her assailant in a week or 10 days.

The socialite matron was beaten so severely she has been unconscious virtually ever since.

Today, however, Dr. Gilbert Abrax at the hospital said she speaks a little and shows signs of awareness. He said she probably will be able to talk to police within a fortnight.

In the meantime, extradition papers from Connecticut were on their way to Chicago as police sought custody of an ex-jail breaker of Naugatuck, Ct., who broke out of the New Haven County Jail, June 7, with four other men and was arrested in Chicago on a burglary charge Saturday.

He is also wanted for questioning about a postoffice robbery.

Berlin Claims 26 Red Planes Downed

LONDON, July 5 (AP)—A Berlin broadcast declared today German fighter planes shot down 26 of a force of 80 Russian planes stabbing last night toward the Norwegian harbor of Kirkenes, above the Arctic circle.

The broadcast claimed the Germans suffered no loss.

State Police Question 30 Again in McGrath Case

State police today began a complete requestioning of 30 persons known to have seen little Frances McGrath of Dorchester on the night she vanished from Scituate Harbor.

This was the newest order in the probe of her brutal slaying, following a holiday in which a Wollaston motorist taken into custody in Boston and a Brockton man arrested in Hanson were questioned by state detectives.

Those who now are to be rounded up for requestioning include a Scituate man who claims he saw the little girl climb into a gray automobile just after she left the Satuit bowling alleys in Scituate.

He is to be shown the many automobiles inspected thus far in the case in the hope he may be able to identify one.

The quick wit of a South End girl led to apprehension of the Wollaston man, taken into custody after he allegedly made improper advances to the girl and four companions. Using a hairpin, the girl scratched the registration number of the man's car on the innersole of one of her shoes.

The Brockton man was taken to the Norwell State Police barracks for questioning following his arrest on a drunkenness charge in Hanson, where police said he was found in an automobile with a 16-year-old girl. He was later released.

$1500 Reward

Rewards totaling $1500 in War Bonds will be paid for exclusive information to the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser leading to the apprehension of the slayer of 10-year-old Frances McGrath.

These papers offered the first $1000 in War Bonds and an additional $500 was offered by a reader, who asked that his identity remains confidential.

Hunt 4 Lost in Blimp Sea Crash

Navy and Coast Guard craft searched waters off Mt. Desert Island, Me., today for the bodies of four missing members of the 10-man crew of a Navy patrol blimp which crashed into the sea Sunday night. A board of inquiry has been ordered to investigate the cause.

In announcing the accident, First Naval District headquarters said the bodies of two others were found in the wreckage and four members of the crew were rescued by surface craft.

The blimp, on a routine flight from the Weymouth air station, crashed soon after reporting her position as over Mt. Desert Rock. The Navy withheld names of the dead and missing pending notification of next of kin.

Invasion Show Peps 5 Million Bond Sale

War bonds still were selling at a brisk rate at Boston retail stores today in an aftermath to an INVASION BOND SHOW which poured $5,000,000 into coffers of the Treasury Department and gave a taste of war to the biggest gathering ever assembled in New England.

More than 500,000 persons thronged the Charles River Basin and its approaches to see the big exhibition a thrilling enactment of invasion and attack by the Army, Navy, Coast Guard and Maritime Services.

The show was the climax to the war bond drive by the Boston Retail Trade Board. More than 100,000 E bonds were sold, but officials hope to increase this number substantially before sales close Saturday night.

BOATS IN PARADE

The program started with the entrance of Navy PT boats which kicked up so much surf they splashed people seated on the embankments. The first PT boat was driven by Lt. (j.g.) Edward Richardson of Lancaster with a record of 50 offensive missions. Then came various types of landing boats, LCI's, LCM's and LCT's, all loaded with troops in steel helmets, followed by the low, business-like Army "Ducks." This was the parade before the circus.

It went from that to bombings and bombardments and in one thrilling battle scene Coast Guardsmen plunged from a Navy barge in front of the lagoon and gamely swam through water covered with burning oil.

Col. Vincent C. Breen, D.S.C., commanding the 26th Infantry, Massachusetts State Guard, which policed the Esplanade between the two bridges, estimated the huge crowd at 500,000. Cong. John W. McCormack who came on from Washington to attend the show thought it was even larger.

'I Do's' Drop

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—The high marriage rate in 1940, 1941 and 1942 helped to produce a shortage of matrimonial eligibles in this country.

This, plus the fact that many eligible single men are serving overseas, brought to an end in 1943 a series of annual increases in the marriage rate which began in 1940, the census bureau said.

The marriage rate rose from 10.5 per 1000 population in 1939 to an all-time high of 13.1 in 1942, but in 1943 it dropped.

The recently-named national chairman added he would appoint within a few days a campaign strategy committee of 15 members

High Dealers Back Kaiser on F. D. Ticket

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON

WASHINGTON, July 5 (INS)—High New Dealers are persisting today in an effort to persuade President Roosevelt to take Henry J. Kaiser, construction mogul, as his running-mate in place of Henry A. Wallace in the coming presidential campaign.

Thus far, Mr. Roosevelt has held out for Wallace.

The presidential advisers, however, have not yet admitted defeat, despite published reports Mr. Roosevelt turned down the Kaiser plan.

The President's reasons for keeping Wallace on the ticket are said to be a desire to please left-wing elements ardently championing Wallace, and a reluctance to drop Wallace for fear that act would wreck the proposed Democratic admonition against "changing horses in the middle of the stream."

FAVORING KAISER

Some left-wingers, reportedly led by Sidney Hillman, CIO's political action committee head, favor the switch from Wallace to Kaiser. The Hillman faction says Kaiser would be a better vote-getter among laboring men than Wallace and would command the respect of the business world, an asset Wallace lacks.

Kaiser's name was first mentioned as a possible running-mate for Roosevelt in mid-April. High New Dealers "sounded out" Kaiser sentiment on Capitol Hill, but found the Democratic lawmakers lukewarm, because most of them were committed either to Sen. Barkley of Kentucky or Speaker Rayburn of Texas. A few preferred Sen. Truman of Missouri.

Capitol Hill Democrats were opposed to Kaiser solely on the ground they preferred a practical politician on the ticket—a man they knew personally—to a business man, whose political background is obscure.

KAISER, DAM BUILDER

Now, the Kaiser boom is renewed.

Kaiser, whose home is in Oakland, Cal., is 62 yearse old. He gained national reputation as a builder when, as chairman of the Six Companies, Inc., he managed construction of the huge Boulder and Parker dams. In 1939, he managed construction of the Grand Coulee dam.

Before the outbreak of World War II, Kaiser went into shipbuilding. He shattered all shipbuilding records by prefabricating ships and assembling the prefabricated pieces. He built Liberty ships in weeks instead of the months usually required.

Hunt Attack-Knifer of Girl, 10

PITTSBURGH, July 5 (AP)—A 10-year-old girl, who strayed away from her companions while frolicking in Highland Park, was attacked and stabbed three times through the lungs by an unidentified assailant.

Police said the girl, Helen Hrinsin, of suburban Blawnox, is in a critical condition at Pittsburgh hospital, where she gasped out a story of how a man attacked her after coaxing her into his automobile with an offer to drive her home.

The child, covered with blood, staggered from the park to a nearby house and collapsed in the arms of a farmhand, police said in giving this version of the attack:

After being separated from her companions in the park, the child began walking home. The man then coaxed her into an automobile, drove the child to a lonely bridle path and there attacked and stabbed her.

Scene of the crime was established by police who found the child's hair bow of pink ribbon, torn and bedraggled and soaked with blood.

A mile farther up the path police said they found a freshly dug hole, making police believe that the assailant planned to bury the child. They added that the girl apparently staggered off to the home while the fiend dug the grave.

Police broadcast a description of the attacker as a tall white man of about 30, with a little mustache, wearing khaki trousers and driving a grey automobile.

Dewey Watches Political Moves

ALBANY, N. Y., July 5 (AP)—Telephone conferences with party leaders kept Gov. Thomas E. Dewey abreast today of fast unfolding organization plans which appeared likely to concentrate the direction of senatorial and congressional, as well as presidential, campaigns in New York city headquarters.

The Republican nominee, who spent a quiet holiday at the executive mansion yesterday, has conferred frequently by telephone with Herbert Brownell, Jr., GOP national chairman. Otherwise he has attained remarkable seclusion for a presidential candidate since his return to Albany.

Thus far this week, Dewey has had no appointments with party leaders and has expressed the desire not to hold conferences at his farm near Pawling, N. Y., where he will go Friday for a 'homecoming' celebration and rest.

Lava From Volcano Perils Mexico Church

MEXICO CITY, July 5 (AP)—Lava from the new Paricutin volcano now is within 75 feet of the parish church of San Juan Parangaricutiro and soldiers are moving religious relics from the church, the defense ministry said today.

Soldiers and army trucks have been stationed in the town for more than a week, ready to give aid. Huts on the outskirts already have been destroyed.

Raps Critics of World Fund Plan

BRETTON WOODS, N. H., July 5 (AP)—Harry D. White came to vigorous defense today of the projected international currency stabilization fund he is seeking to pilot through the United Nations monetary conference but cautioned that it "will perform no miracles."

Acting as official conference spokesman, the American delegate lashed out at critics of the proposal after reporting to newsmen that first conference sessions have not yet brought decisions on any controversial issues.

Rep. Somers (D.) of New York, observing the parley as an adviser to the American delegation, told a reporter he had noted what he termed an encouraging attitude of compromise on the part of the 44 participating nations.

Specifically White replied to those who have contended this country would be pouring $2,500,000,000 in a giant "rat hole," to those who have said the United States must maintain permanently its pre-war foreign trade position of exports larger than imports, and to those who say America's vast gold hoard is useless.

First outlining again the function of the proposed fund as a mechanism for providing all nations with the monies of other countries they need to pay their foreign trade debts, White emphasized that the fund's aggregate value will remain constant at $8,000,000,000. This, he said, will be achieved by requiring larger contributions of any depreciated currency.

Stimson and Taylor Received by Pope

Soldier Invents KP Machine

WITH THE AMERICAN DIVISION, Bougainville (Delayed) (AP)—Sgt. Robert W. Clarke, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Clarke, 9 Social st., New Bedford, Mass., has used his inventive instincts to cut down KP work, especially in potato peeling and flour mixing.

Clarke, member of an artillery battery, acquired a half-horsepower motor, plywood wheel and driving belt. With the aid of a ordnance unit, he put together a mechanical KP which mixes pancake batter, mashes potatoes and beats dehydrated eggs.

Mary Douglas, 10, of Suffolk st., Lynn, was in serious condition at Lynn Hospital today after being impaled in a slide down a play chute at the Metropolitan bathhouse, Lynn beach.

Victory for Philbin Experts' Prediction

By FRANK REILLY

Renomination of Cong. Philip J. Philbin by Democrats of Clinton and surrounding communities at next Tuesday's state primaries was predicted today by political observers.

Cong. Philbin gained nationwide fame when, as spokesman for the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, he battled for five months for successful passage of the G. I. Bill of Rights, recently made law, which provides unemployment compensation, education and many other benefits for the returning serviceman and woman.

Last year the Clinton leader rendered similar service to returning veterans when he helped bring about passage of the mustering-out pay bill.

State Treas. Francis X. Hurley, one of two Democrats elected to state office two years ago, is opposing Mayor Maurice J. Tobin in the contest for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

With the bulk of the Tobin strength concentrated in Boston and that of his opponent in outside communities, observers today were unable to speculate on the probable outcome of their contest at next Tuesday's polling.

OPA Grants Ice Cost Rise in Cape Areas

In a move to insure adequate supplies of ice on Martha's Vineyard and in Barnstable County, the regional OPA office issued orders permitting increases in the retail price of ice in those areas until Jan. 1.

OPA also gives ice dealers in the rest of New England choice of a new schedule or their prices of April, 1942, whichever is higher, for the same period.

Boston Boys Enjoy Baked Beans Most

By HUCK FINNEGAN

EIGHTH AIR FORCE, England—Funny what palatables a fellow misses after he's been away from home for some time—things like ice cream, chocolate bars, chewing gum or fried eggs. You never miss 'em until you can't get them.

Cpl. Pasquale Perroni
Bristol, R. I.

Cpl. Arthur J. McKenna, Jr.
Winthrop

With Lt. Col. Patrick Bouchard, it's Boston baked beans, and when Needham's Russ Gately sighed for a plate of beans after he was rescued from the North sea recently, Bouchard said, "Send him around I'll fix him up."

Bouchard is an old Roxbury boy

"My beannot is the most important item in my luggage," said Bouchard. "I've carried it with me everywhere. I've baked beans in Chile and all over Europe. At times I've been stumped for salt pork, but my sister (Mrs. Edith Barron, Augusta, Me.) usually comes to the rescue. She's been sending it to me regularly since I've been in England, and every week or fortnight I round up the Boston boys."

S-Sgt. James J. O'Brien, 23, of 140 Home ave., Providence, wishes he weighed as much when he was quarterbacking the Regent Tigers as he does today. O'Brien has shot up from 140 to 160, "and never enjoyed himself half so much before."

"Food's good, a fellow has plenty of company, and the work (plane maintenance) is interesting. My brother Raymond (25), Navy, gets to see me once in awhile, too."

Cpl. Walter Christopher
Pittsfield

S-Sgt. James J. O'Brien
Providence

Cpl. Walter Christopher, 26, of 125 Church st., Pittsfield, likes his bomb loading job, but admits he misses wife Katherine and son Charles William, now nearing two years

S-Sgt. Frank J. Salvo, South Barre, has a good job in the quartermaster corps, has gone from 153 pounds to 168, but wishes "I could get in a good swim now and then."

Monotony of Army routine becomes tedious, but otherwise T. Sgt. Henry Fox, 207 Plaza ave., Waterbury, Ct., likes his job as supply clerk here. "Just the same, I'd chuck it for a summer on Long Island Sound." Fox was assistant manager of Kay's Waterbury store.

S-Sgt. Frank J. Salvo

Bernard McAvoy
Roxbury

Tomorrow:

The Record-American Silver Skates Derby goes to England. Read about the Burke family of Worcester in tomorrow's Boston Evening American. And Huck Finnegan tells about Cambridge, Medford and Hartford, Ct., soldiers, too.

married Pauline Weiselberg, a Waterbury girl.

Cpl. Pasquale Perroni, 30, of 70 Washington st., Bristol, R. I., feels sorry that he didn't see brother Anthony, 24, before the latter was shot down over Germany. "I was over here months before him, too," says Pasquale.

"I used to live on Chelsea st., East Boston, and went to the James Otis grammar school there," said the corporal.

Bernard McAvoy, 21, of 20 Delle ave., Roxbury, would swap a two-day pass for one of his mother's apple pies. "I love them," he said, mouth watering. Bernie graduated from Mission High in '39, played basketball for the Boys' Club, Roxbury.

"I'll write more often," Corp. Arthur J. McKenna, Jr., promises his parents, Mary A. and father, who live at 57 Ocean View st., Winthrop. The 20-year-old redheaded medic is sporting some new dental crockery, but he must have done all right with the old ones, because he's as vibrant as a colt.

"Tell Bob Magee and Ed Fitzgerald I was asking for them, will you?" McKenna was a clerk at Winthrop's A. & P. market before the war.

Coast Guardsmen Thrill Crowd With Upset Drill

Attack

One of the biggest thrills of the spectacle staged before the eyes of some 500,000 at the Invasion Bond Show at the Charles River Basin was the landing attack. Pouring ashore (above) from landing barges, the troops charge in to take the "objective" . . . while (at right) others cover advancing forces as they wait the signal to move. Army, Navy, Coast Guard and Maritime Services took part in the show.

The Battle of Saipan One of War's Costliest

THE BATTLE for possession of Saipan Island in the Marianas is one of the greatest battles of the war, and should be recognized as such.

It is one of the most furious battles of the war.

It is proving to be one of the most COSTLY battles of the war, particularly in the destruction of American lives.

Army, Navy and Marine Corps casualties on Saipan reached the staggering total of 9752 killed, wounded and missing in the first 14 days of the operation.

THE AMERICAN DEAD ALONE NUMBERED 1474.

THERE WERE 7400 WOUNDED.

THOSE IN THE CATEGORY OF THE MISSING NUMBERED 878.

THESE ARE TREMENDOUS AND FRIGHTENING LOSSES OF AMERICAN LIVES.

The total casualties on Saipan have already been three times the American toll at Tarawa, hitherto regarded as the bloodiest American military operation of the war.

In proportion to the forces engaged, they are greater than the losses in the Normandy invasion —which has properly had the grave attention of the American people, but plainly should not have ALL their attention.

AND IN the period of operations on Saipan Island during which these heavy casualties were sustained, less than HALF of the island was occupied by the American forces.

The defending Japanese still remained to be driven from the remaining half of the island, or destroyed thereon.

There is no doubt whatever that we will be victorious on Saipan Island, and that we will occupy it fully in due time and thereafter occupy it for all time—and thus utilize it for effective operations against the Philippines and against the Japanese homeland itself.

BUT WHAT our FINAL casualties on Saipan will be—what our total cost of occupation will be—we do not know, and can only grimly guess.

It is a terrible battle.

And of course it is an important and vital battle, unsurpassed in its bearing upon the future course of the war, unequalled in the fury of the struggle.

These facts serve to remind us of a fundamental fact that must never be forgotten.

ALL OF our battles in the Pacific are furious and costly.

All of them are important and vital, and have decisive bearing on the outcome of the war.

THE ENTIRE PACIFIC WAR, WE MUST NOT FORGET, IS FURIOUS AND COSTLY AND VITALLY IMPORTANT.

It is not a secondary war, but the BIGGEST WAR IN ALL OUR HISTORY.

It is not a war that can be successfully fought with half-measures, or safely fought as a sideshow to other phases of the war being given priority in other parts of the world.

IF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE ARE SHOCKED BY THE HIGH CASUALTIES ON SAIPAN ISLAND, THEY NEED TO BE SHOCKED.

THE American people need to be reminded that in the Pacific War, where so many of their boys are losing their lives, the decision must be made whether America itself is to live or die.

They need to know what only high casualties can impress upon them—that we have a powerful enemy in the Pacific, a desperate enemy, and a fanatical and ruthless enemy REQUIRING OUR FULL ATTENTION AND OUR FULL MILITARY POWER BEFORE HE WILL BE DEFEATED.

WASHINGTON, July 5—I was practically astounded at the news that Harrison E. Spangler of Cedar Rapids, Ia., had been replaced as chairman of the Republican National Committee because it made my first and only political prediction come true.

I am so unused to having any of my predictions come true that I could hardly believe I had hit one for a change. In fact, my astonishment was so great that—although the story was in all the papers—I called up Republican National Headquarters to check.

"Are you absolutely sure," I said, "that Mr. Spangler is no longer your national chairman?"

"Well, if he is," was the reply, "we are stuck with two national chairman because another has been appointed."

I said I guessed it must be so but, if it turned out to be a mistake, to please call me back. The fellow said not to wait around for any such call because it would be a very long wait.

"Furthermore," he added, "the new chairman, Mr. Herbert Brownell, Jr., of New York city, would not care to have us calling reporters and telling them it was all a ghastly error."

NATURALLY, therefore, you are on tenterhooks to learn how, and under what circumstances, I performed my marvelous soothsaying. If you will kindly bear with me, I shall tell all.

I made my prediction down in the cellar underneath the Chicago stadium.

I was leaning against a pillar, wondering whether to ascend into the broiling convention hall or go out and let Swift's render me into lard, when a stranger came along. I buttonholed him

"Mark my words," I babbled, holding him with glittering eye. "The day is not far distant when Harrison Spangler of Cedar Rapids, Ia., will cease to be Republican national chairman!"

The fellow tried to pull himself away but I had him mesmerized.

"How do you know this?" he whispered, his face blanching.

"Listen," I said, "I will tell you because I must tell it to someone or bust. But if you ever mention it to a living soul —particularly another reporter —I will come back and haunt you to your dying day. I am a fiend from the black regions," I added, "and I haunt at the drop of a hat."

"I don't doubt it," gibbered the fellow. "You certainly look it!"

I gave the wretch another shuddery look and continued:

"I have got to hold this intelligence until Mr. Spangler goes out. There may be many reasons why he will be replaced —and the papers, undoubtedly, will list them by the yard—but I know of one they will not mention. It is this:

"Governor Dewey does not like to be left on ice!"

The fellow brightened.

"On ice!" he gasped. "Where!"

"That is a figure of speech," I said. "It is my way of referring to something that happened tonight.

"Mr. Spangler's committee made arrangements to bring Governor Dewey to this rendezvous but the committee got things all gummed up. And Mr. Dewey, as you have doubtless heard, is a fellow who does not like things to be all gummed up.

"The committee got Dewey to the stadium all right but they brought him to a room downstairs here and told him to wait. Then the escorts hurried away without explanation, leaving him sitting here with only his wife, his secretary and his bodyguard.

"Well, time went on, and the escorts failed to return. Governor Dewey looked at his watch and it was 9:06. He was due on the air at 9:05.

"Finally the Governor said to his bodyguard: 'Come on, take me up!' And he strode from the room.

"The escorts arrived a second later and were horrified to find their charge gone. They were searching madly for him all over the basement when Governor Dewey made his triumphal entry into the tense and waiting auditorium—from the wrong side of the hall!"

"DEWEY," I continued, "had to make his way clear across the joint to the platform. He kept smiling, but I will bet it was quite a strain.

"Furthermore this wasn't all the committee did. After he had concluded his speech, Dewey was escorted out of what the escorts obviously thought was a front door. As the party went through, the spring locked door slammed on them.

"They discovered they were out in a pitch-dark alley. The Governor had to walk all the way around the stadium to find his car!"

FOR THE BENEFIT of certain parties who apparently need a blue print for a gag, I wish to state—definitely and unequivocally—that I was only kidding the other day when I said that Mrs. Mary Holmes regarded her brother, Steve Early, as wayward.

Mrs. Holmes positively does not consider her brother wayward. She thinks he is a fine, upstanding man, and an ornament to the White House, where he helps President Roosevelt with his thinking.

Furthermore—and I might as well be thorough with this while I am at it—Mrs. Holmes does not think any Democrat is wayward. So there!

O that 'twere possible
After long grief and pain
To find the arms of my true love
Round me once again.
A shadow flits before me
Not thou, but like to thee.
Ah, Christ, that it were possible
For one short hour to see
The souls we loved, that they might tell us
What and where they be!
TENNYSON.

ABOVE is by request of the widow of a U. S. Marine who lost his life at Guadalcanal . . . What town was named after a play? I really should toss this query at Information Please and win an encyclopaedia. I would, only my girl friend says I already have too many books and she is growing weary of having them packed and unpacked and lugged around the country. Anyway, the town is Truby, Fla., originally Macon, Fla. It is named after the play based on the Du Maurier novel. Streets are named after characters in the book. For example, Svengali Square! There are 14 Brooklyns in the United States. Thirteen should change their names. Why couldn't the town of Brooklyn, Ill., be named after a novel and its streets named after characters in the book? For instance, it could be called "Gone With the Wind," Ill. Think of the interesting addresses that would result such as Miss Mary Zilch, 222 Scarlett O'Hara ave., Gone With the Wind, Ill.

MINISTERS' SONS: Am asked to name six successful ministers' sons. I could name 600. The great majority of ministers' sons succeed in life. Gen. Bernard Montgomery of the British Eighth Army is a minister's son. His parents wanted him to be a minister and he was agreeable until he saw a parade of soldiers going to the Boer War. Then he wanted to be a soldier. The General has four brothers in the fighting forces. That may be a record: five sons of the same minister in the armed forces.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—I claim the Greeks originated astrology. The corporal says it was the Babylonians. Who is right? A—Smart fellow, that corporal. He should be a sergeant. The Babylonians originated astrology about 5000 years ago. However, the Greeks originated horoscopes . . . Q—Is there a language of stamps? If so, what is meant when the stamp on a letter is upside down? A—Am not familiar with the language of stamps. Usually the reason a stamp is upside down is because the sender of the letter was in a hurry or is near-sighted . . . Q—Who introduced the role of Buttercup in Gilbert and Sullivan's "HMS Pinafore" to American audiences? A—You've got me there, Mister. That was before my time. However, I remember Fay Templeton played Buttercup at the production of "Pinafore" at the New York Hippodrome.

PASSING BY: Zack Wheat, Erstwhile major leaguer. My favorite Dodger of all time. Zack is now a farmer at Polo, Mo. . . . Ethel Shutta, Band canary and musical comedy star. Has one of the most often mispronounced names in the entertainment world . . . Mrs. Jack Durant. Formerly Molly O'Day. Her husband is one of the best comedians in the country and her 8-year-old daughter, Jacqueline, is so smart she has been asked to join the Quiz Kids.

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, July 5—On the Chief, returning from the convention, I met Raymond C. Schindler, head of the Schindler Bureau of Investigation. I can hear you all saying "what has he got to do with movies?" Well, here it is: He's coming to Hollywood for a special movie assignment.

Schindler, who has as many fascinating tales as Arthur Conan Doyle, has sold two stories to M-G-M based on his experiences in solving his most famous murder mysteries. Rated as one of the greatest private detectives, he was engaged by Nancy Oakes to clear her husband, Alfred de Marigny, of the murder of her father, Sir Harry Oakes. He was one of the men who cleared De Marigny of the charges. Schindler tells me the Oakes case will soon be reopened and a new suspect named.

Belita

THE DAY CLARE BOOTHE LUCE left Chicago she told me she will be heading for California after she rests at her farm in Connecticut. She has invited two little children to spend the summer with her. One bears the name of her daughter, Ann, so tragically killed at Palo Alto a few months ago. David Selznick, who spent a great deal of time with Mrs. Luce, is eager to get her to do a story for him, but I rather think, right now, she is concerned solely with politics. She makes such a good speech she will be drafted by the Republicans to take a leading part in the coming campaign.

* * *

I THINK BELITA would be an inspired choice for the role of "Marilyn Miller." She's dainty, she's graceful, and she's been studying ballet since she could walk. I haven't been in favor of the different girls I've heard reported for the part because Marilyn was first of all as graceful as a reed in the wind and a trained dancer. Belita is to be tested for the Miller role and I do hope nothing will prevent her getting it. She's as much of a dancer as she is a skater, and that's a compliment, for she certainly can skate.

THE LUCKIEST lad in 50 states is Peter Johnsen of the Norwegian Merchant Marine. Peter, you see, gets the chance to play opposite Greta Garbo in "Women of the Sea," a job almost any actor would welcome. The young Norwegian is 6 feet 2 and is described by Lester Cowan, who signed him, as the Joel McCrea type. He was in the Norwegian underground before he escaped to London with a price on his head.

* * *

* * *

A LINE OR TWO: Just a word of thanks to Dorothy Manners, my able assistant, before I clear this avalanche of mail and really start to work. She did a grand job in my absence and I am grateful to her for making my Chicago junket possible . . . The night before we left my erstwhile home town the Frank Berings took us to the Chez Paree because while the convention was on I had no time for play. Sophie Tucker sat with us and she and Frank had a reunion. It was he who persuaded her to start her first bank account. He did the same for the late Ben Bernie, and when the president of the bank asked for a reference Ben replied: "How about your reference? I'm the guy who's leaving his money here." Our thanks to Howie Mayer for his many courtesies. He is "Mr. Chicago." Sophie comes to the Coast soon to be Fannie Brice's house guest and do a show at the Florentine Gardens.

"A schoolteacher, eh? Well, you just sit there and write, 'I went through a stop sign' 500 times!"

A nice letter from Mayor Edward Kelly of Chicago. Didn't have time to pay him a call and since he is a Democrat and was only at the Republican convention once we never met up . . . Carole Landis met Maj. Tom Wallace in San Francisco to spend the Fourth of July with him. They will return here for several days.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: June Clyde, Critically ill with double pneumonia, is unable to accompany the Jack Haley troupe overseas. Mary Brian has been recruited to take her place; this is where I came in—Helen Gilbert is suing Seymour Chotiner for divorce. It happened before and was withdrawn; Veronica Lake and Carlos Ramirez were a new twosome at The Players, but don't take it seriously. She is still crazy about Andre de Toth; Shirley Temple delighted Mrs. Clarence Linder's heart in San Francisco by breaking a record for Canteen attendance; Ward Greene of King Features will have a new book, "What They Don't Know," on the market July 17. He tells me he already has several movie offers; credit this one to Tommy Dorsey: There is an underground report the barbers of Holland are charging the Nazis 10 per cent more for a shave these days because their faces are longer; Jack and Mary Benny having plenty of laughs at the Clover Club with Lt. Robert Taylor and his wife—you know her—Barbara Stanwyck. Poor Jack was really awfully sick in Chicago; the Lucius Boomers are in our fair city. He is the owner of the Waldorf-Astoria and is always such a gracious host to our visiting Hollywood folk; Rise Stevens has named her baby Nicholas.

Report DeGaulle Due In Capital Thursday

NEW YORK, July 5 (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune said in a dispatch from Washington that Gen. De Gaulle will be in Washington Thursday.

The paper quoted French spokesmen in Washington as saying De Gaulle was coming primarily to make a courtesy call on President Roosevelt and to thank the President and the American people for the liberation of France.

Polish Priest Mum On Report to F. D.

SPRINGFIELD, July 5—The Rev. Stanislaus Orlemanski pastor of Our Lady of Holy Rosary Church, today would neither affirm or deny he had reported to President Roosevelt on his Moscow mission, following release of a statement concerning Stalin's promises to Poland.

The Springfield priest, who was disciplined by his bishop for his unauthorized trip to Russia, released a statement he said had been written by Andrezej Witkos, leader of the Polish peasant parties.

BREAKS SILENCE

Fr. Orlemanski broke his long silence after Drew Pearson, columnist, said the priest had reported to President Roosevelt. Avoiding this declaration by Pearson, the priest passed out the statement, commenting that Poles in the United States ought to know Stalin's plans. The statement, allegedly Stalin's promise, reads:

"We will help you to organize the Polish army. And we will not hesitate to supply you with the best equipment. Our army will go to liberate the Polish people from Hitlerism and Fascism.

"We will not do this for the sake of appearances or because we are brother Slavs. But because sound political judgment shows that as neighbors we are necessary one to the other.

SEES NEW NAZI PERIL

"You cannot destroy the Germans so that they will not rise again. A few years after this war there will be another danger of invasion from them. For this reason it is to our mutual interest to have a strong Poland, a Poland that could check Germany. All military inroads into Poland must be liquidated. All territories once Polish and taken by the Germans must return to Poland.

"We do not want a Communistic or Soviet Poland. We have no intention of meddling in the internal affairs of Poland or the form of government. Let the Polish people decide for themselves. Nevertheless, we will help rebuild a strong, independent, democratic Poland which will be friendly toward us.

"You Communists (here Stalin addressed the Polish Communists present in the group) who are going to Poland to fight the Germans, behave as good men so as not to create any civil disturbance, for that costs very much blood."

Gigli Sees Jealousy In Death Report

ROME (AP)—Beniamino Gigli former Metropolitan Opera star said that reports from London of his death were "malicious slander" spread by his enemies.

"They are jealous of me," Gigli said. "They are always saying things about me. First that I am a Fascist. Now that I am dead."

Bushnell Gambling Drive Got Small Fry

Atty.-Gen. Bushnell's off-the-record conduct of his famous gambling crusade, with its detrimental reaction on the Boston Police Dept., is brought to light in this tenth article of the series showing the causes of the decline of morale and efficiency in that law enforcement organization.

By BARRINGTON WELLES

There are numerous interesting aspects to the conduct of Atty.-Gen. Robert T. Bushnell in the cases of those arrested after he went over Boston police officials' heads to conduct his gambling raids in Boston on Jan. 12, 1943.

Among those seized was Harry "Doc" Jasper" Sagansky whom he labeled the master mind of gambling in the Greater Boston area, and 32 lesser figures, most of whom pleaded guilty later to being minor employes in gambling operations.

Sagansky had a prior appointment in Middlesex County, however, where he was sentenced to two years in the House of Correction on another charge.

MOVED TO NORFOLK

But for some reason he was brought from the East Cambridge jail, one of the oldest correctional institutions in the country and lacking in most of the modern faculties and equipment, across the river to Suffolk courthouse.

There he pleaded guilty to the gambling indictments and was sentenced to two and one-half years in State Prison—six months more than the term he was serving but wiping out the other sentence. A short time later Sagansky, who has a chronic stomach ailment, was transferred to the Norfolk State Prison colony.

On several occasions, efforts have been made to induce Sagansky to "sing," but he has insisted on his constitutional rights and is serving his time.

One notable occasion was in the recent trial of the so-called Paddy Coleman bookie cases although Coleman himself was not brought to trial because of illness from which he died Sunday.

Bushnell originally obtained 22 indictments in that case but only 18 went to trial. Two, including Coleman, were prevented by illness from attending. Another died before the trial started. The fourth man is still missing. He never was in this state and never should have been indicted.

$2500 FINES PAID

The result of the trial, which proceeded at an estimated cost of $500 daily, resulted in not guilty verdicts from the jury for 14 of the 18 defendants. Another defendant received a directed verdict on one charge and was freed by the jury on another. Three were found guilty of registering bets but not guilty of conspiracy charges.

The three paid a total of $2500 in fines.

Getting back to the Sagansky case—after he had received his State prison sentence, the remaining defendants took part in one of the most amazing incidents which ever went unrecorded in the annals of law enforcement in the State.

It was a Sunday afternoon, just a few days before the defendants were to appear in court to give their pleas to the indictments against them.

The setting was in one of the city's most exclusive hotels and here the defendants were informed just what sentences or fines would be meted out to them in the event they decided to plead guilty.

THEY DID ALL RIGHT

Several of them got together and decided that they did not care to go to jail or to pay fines. Apparently they did all right, too, from a perusal of court records.

Then Mr. Bushnell more or less concentrated on the police department, obtaining indictments which were quashed against Commr. Timilty and several ranking officials of the department. He brought in new indictments and finally surrendered and not pressed them as they were to go to trial last January.

Through it all he hit Timilty and other public figures using his attacks in his own way and publicizing them to suits own purposes.

And yet, despite his elaborate and extravagant promises, fewer than a hundred small-time gamblers have been rounded up at little, if anything, worth while has been done to lift the morale (Boston's police dept.

Another in this series on the breakdown of Boston police morale under political pressure will appear in tomorrow's Boston Evening American.

Fooled Two Women

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: No one could have been more in love than I was when Jim and I married three years ago. He has not been drafted because he had a perforated eardrum, and is working as foreman in a defense plant and makes a very large salary. We have no children.

A few weeks ago I discovered that in his early youth Jim had a common-law wife and had by her two children. She could not marry him at the time owing to some divorce muddle. But he had promised to marry her when that got straightened out. Meanwhile, he met me. We fell in love and he never told me of this former family.

I heard about it and went to see the woman. She was very badly provided for and seemed pitiful to me. Now I've left Jim, intend to get a divorce in the hope he will do his duty and marry this woman. My parents say I'm a fool. But it isn't so much his past life but that he deceived me in not telling me of this family. Do you agree with my parents that I'm a fool? I could never trust him again. BEREFT.

No one could consider you a fool, unless such a one wholly lacked ideals. You tell me you could never trust him again.

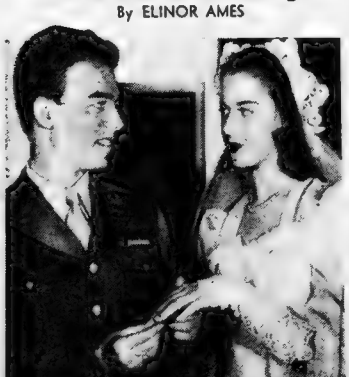
The Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES



"WITH THIS RING"—At a signal from the clergyman, the best man produces the ring, the bridegroom slips it on his bride's finger. (Most brides wear long sleeves and no gloves or, with short sleeves, mitts. If gloves are worn the ring finger of the left glove must be ripped or cut out for the ring.)

Defeat Beating by Sun Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

THE TIME HAS COME . . . and now is the time . . . to take your place in the sun . . . but don't let overexposure wither your complexion. What with fashion's new revealing tricks . . . showing more of the lovely you on the beach and on the street . . . face, arms and shoulders will take an awful beating from King Sol . . . unless the burning rays are scientifically guarded against . . . that you may emerge a bronze beauty but not a skin-problem perplexed gal.

A tube of cream . . . containing that vitally necessary ingredient . . . cholesterine . . . will not only give your skin the essentials of good, beauty care . . . but afford all the protection that can be mustered . . . despite the sun . . . against a dried up, withered, too-much sun-kissed complexion.

It is easy to understand why this one-tube preparation is such a handy necessity . . . for beach, town or the office . . . or for those gloriously anticipated week-ends. For this cream . . . rich in lanolin and olive oil . . . smelling as luscious as a lemon snow pudding . . . is soothing to the skin. And a film is sealed on when cold water has been splashed over the area . . . thereby forming a protective outer layer against burning and drying out by sun and wind.

The vital, restorative component . . . cholesterine . . . makes this cream not only ideal for summer use and untanning . . . but an important prop in the care of the facial tissues. Soak up the sun in an even golden glow . . . but do it to no detriment of the complexion.

Your pretty little nose . . . the first vulnerable spot the sun "bites" . . . can be free from unattractive peeling . . . with use of this cream . . . which flows freely from the tube and spreads over any area evenly and easily . . . as a shield against redness.

It is also absorbed quickly into the skin . . . and acts as a lubricant. This is more than a suntanning cream . . . it is a beauty routine preparation . . . which you can use at the beach in swellegant fashion . . . before date-time . . . and before retiring. Cold water splashing after its application . . . followed by a blotting dry movement . . . will give you that smooth, soft, skin-you-love-to-touch complexion.

When Announcing Soldier's Baby

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: My husband is overseas, and I am to have a baby soon. He sent me the names and addresses of several of his buddies, some of whom are also overseas but in different places. He asked me to send an announcement to each of these boys. Is this proper? If so, whose return address should I write on the outside of the envelopes, his overseas address or my home address? C. H.

Yes, indeed it would be proper, very friendly, too, for you to send birth announcements to your husband's buddies. And I suggest that you write your home address on the envelopes, and, as a very practical way to inform them of your husband's address, write his address somewhere on the birth announcement cards or notes. For example, you might write: "Bill asked me to send you our good news, and I'm very happy to do this. Bill's address is . . . And may I add my friendly greetings to you, and every good wish?"

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, Tuesday—I am beginning to understand the problems of the farmer and the home gardener better than ever before. My eldest grandson is helping on our farm. He is 14 years old, and I am sorry to say it takes a little while to really break in anyone to be much help. But he is doing his best.

We have a little family vegetable garden near the cottage which the children and our guests work in, and I am always conscious that it is the best possible exercise, though I never have time to do enough. So I don't feel that I have made much contribution to the destruction of weeds. However, the children brought in a large number of radishes for lunch yesterday.

AT A MEETING not long ago, I met Mrs. Robert Weeks Kelley, who, at the request of the Navy League of the United States, organized its national women's council about two and a half years ago. She began with five women, and there are over 84 state and local councils throughout the country, and many more councils are in the process of formation.

Ever since 1902, when Navy League was formed at the request of the Naval Order of the United States, and with the endorsement of President Theodore Roosevelt, it has been known as the civilian branch of the United States Navy. The purpose of this national women's council, however, is to do things which contribute to the comfort of the officers and enlisted men of the Navy. They carry on in various places, canteens, consultant bureaus, education departments, midshipmen's recreation centers and training schools, recruitment centers for WAVES, SPARS and Marines.

The list of activities is really too long to enumerate all of them, but this civilian branch of the Navy works in co-operation with the Navy Relief Society and the Red Cross. This arm of the Navy League pretty well covers whatever can be done to make the Navy men feel that they are a much cherished branch of our armed forces.

Quality Air in Cottons

By BETTINA BEDWELL

DRESSES with peplums have been very high style numbers in luxury materials all Spring, and now in midsummer they appear in cottons, losing nothing of their air of quality because they come in this grand hot weather fabric.

Joseph Halpert has such a dress in clear black and white-striped cotton, with a silky surface to it. It is one of the best-looking dresses to wear in town during these torrid months, and is sketched here by Miss Dulin.

The waist has brief caps for sleeves and is collarless, with the peplum furnishing a graceful flare below the black patent leather belt. Black jet buttons fasten the waist. Stripes are worked horizontally on the waist and vertically on the skirt.

Add More Protein

By MARTHA LEE

IN HOT WEATHER, nutritionists tell us to eat more protein each day because it is needed in the diet to maintain a control over body infection. Since meat is a good source of high quality protein—and a flavorful one, too—include it in every day's meals. Its proteins are right for every bodily need. Also, meat supplies vitamins and minerals important to the summer diet.

Plan meat meals that are quick to prepare with recipes like the following:

JELLIED VEAL LOAF

2½ lbs. veal shank, cut in 2 or 3 pieces
1 medium onion, diced
2 qts. water 2 bay leaves
2 pieces celery 1 tbsp. salt
1 tbsp. Worcestershire sauce

Combine all ingredients and simmer 2 hours. Remove veal from bone. Chop veal fine. Strain broth. Cook down to 1 cupful. Add veal. Press firmly into a loaf pan. Chill. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

PORK LIVER WITH SPANISH SAUCE

½ lb. pork liver
Salt Flour
1 small onion 2 tbsp. lard
2 cups cooked tomatoes
2 cups cooked lima beans
(If dried lima beans are used, soak in water for 2 hours then cook until tender)

Slice liver in ½-inch slices. Cut in 1-inch pieces. Season and dredge with flour. Brown sliced onion and liver in lard or bacon drippings. Add tomatoes. Cover and cook slowly 20 to 30 minutes. Serve over hot lima beans. Makes 4 servings.

BEEF BISCUIT ROLL

1 lb. ground beef
½ cup chopped onion
½ cup chopped green pepper
Meat drippings
½ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper

Brown beef, onion and green pepper in meat drippings in skillet. Add seasonings. Make a regulation biscuit dough and spread dough with meat mixture and roll like jelly roll. If dough is too soft, after meat roll is rolled, chill in refrigerator, then cut 1½-inch slices. Place cut side up in pan rubbed with lard. Brush tops with melted fat. Bake 20 to 25 minutes at 450 deg. F. Serve with brown gravy, mushroom or cheese sauce. Makes 5 or 6 servings.

SWEETBREADS AND BACON

2 pairs sweetbreads
Bread crumbs 8 slices bacon
1 beaten egg

Pre-cook sweetbreads immediately after purchasing them. To pre-cook, soak sweetbreads in cold water for 30 minutes, then simmer for 20 minutes in water. (To each quart of water add 1 teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon lemon juice or vinegar.) Drain, drop into cold water and remove loose membrane. Season whole pre-cooked sweetbreads. Dip in crumbs, beaten egg and again in crumbs. Fry bacon until crisp. Remove to hot pan and keep warm. Brown sweetbreads in hot drippings. Serve with bacon. Makes 4 servings.

BARBECUED FRANKFURTER ROLLS

1 tbsp. butter
½ onion, chopped
½ tsp. pepper ¼ tsp. sugar
1 tsp. mustard
¼ tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. Tabasco sauce
1 tsp. paprika ½ cup ketchup
¼ cup vinegar ½ cup water

Melt butter, add chopped onion and cook until clear. Add other ingredients and bring to a boil. With a sharp knife, cut 3-inch slit in each of 12 frankfurters and place in flat baking pan slit side up. Pour sauce over all and bake in moderate oven for 25 minutes. Baste frankfurters with sauce. Serve in split buttered toasted rolls with green onions. Makes 6 servings.

Gardeners, Save All Surplus Vegetables

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Head, Vegetable Gardening Dept., Norfolk County Agriculture School, and Supervisor of the Boston Record-American-Sunday Advertiser Garden on the Common

... As is generally the case, many gardens are now producing crops beyond expectation, and the problem now facing these successful growers is: "What to do with the surplus?"

We have been considering this problem, and want to suggest that you either plan to can now while the products are in good condition, or try to sell the surplus to someone else who does not have a garden and wishes to can. Distribution of food is about as big a job as production, but we must not let these valuable food materials go to waste.

One thing we must guard against at the present time is a general letdown in production of all war materials, and food is vital. Too many people already feel that the war is most over, and there is no need for extra production. As far as food is concerned, we are in a critical period.

PLANT LATE CORN

If you have extra vegetables, contact your local garden committee for help in disposing of them.

Unless corn is planted at once, it will not mature in this area. Corn is a hot weather crop, and will grow fast if put in now. Be sure the land is well prepared, and fertilized, and grow the quick maturing varieties such as Marcross, Golden Early Market or Earligold.

GARDENS NEED WATER

Many gardens are again showing signs of drouth. In this area we often get a season where rainfall is spotty, and during the dry spells, many gardens suffer. It is possible to avoid delay in the growing program by watering. Soak the area well now before it gets too dry.

Fertilize if crops grow slowly. There is already some evidence of starvation in victory gardens. Crops that are poor in color and lack vigor may be helped by the application of commercial fertilizer. Apply on both sides of the row about six inches from the plants. A handful should cover about 6 to 8 feet of row.

Watch the weeds this week and cultivate all crops lightly. Be sure to have the garden clean if you plan to leave it for a few days.

HOLLYWOOD, July 5—Marlene Dietrich probably did away with more conventions than any actress in Hollywood . . . she is the only married actress whose friendships are discussed openly by columnists, magazine writers and herself. There is nothing hush, hush about her and Jean Gabin.

Yet, she is married to Rudolph Sieber, but they have an understanding. So much so that he has accompanied her and Gabin on dates.

Marlene Deitrich

She was, also, the first woman to wear trousers in Hollywood. She popularized the style, even before Katharine Hepburn, who was only in dungarees. She gets her pants made at a men's tailor, who asks his regular customers if they would prefer trousers like hers. She also knows how and when to dress feminine, and to exhibit her best exhibitions.

Her real name is Mary Magdalene von Losch, and she was born in Weimar, Germany, on Dec. 27, 1904. She is five feet, five inches tall, weighs 120 pounds, has blue eyes and her hair is red gold. She likes to sit so her legs will be noticed.

* * *

BEFORE SHE started on her theatrical career, she studied the violin with the intention of becoming a concert violinist. She gave it up. "I can't stand to do anything amateurishly," she asserts.

She doesn't display temperament on the set. She makes a practice of studying each set carefully before she even starts to rehearse her lines. She knows something about the correct lighting for a scene and the value of the camera. However, there is one visitor she'd never allow on the set—Jean Gabin. He would drive up outside the studio gates and wait for her. Then they would drive off.

It was while she was making her recent picture, "Kismet," that she didn't believe she looked as good in that as she did in her previous Technicolor picture, "Garden of Allah." She made the director run that picture to see how she photographed. After the picture, he said to her, "But, my dear, I can understand the difference. The cameraman is seven years older." She caught on and laughed, for she can take a joke even when it's on her.

She is a movie fan. She goes to pictures often and behaves as if she weren't in pictures. Her favorite actress is Garbo. She has never met her but would like to. This shouldn't be difficult these days for Gee Gee is getting around and meeting everyone.

* * *

SHE RESIDES in a rented house in Westwood, overlooking a golf course. She has given up personal entertaining for the duration. A look at her playroom is proof. An ice cream freezer rests on the ping-pong table. Beside it are a broken electric wall candelabra, an ironing board and a wicker clothes hamper. Scattered about are vacuum cleaners, cardboard cartons, a globe map of the world and books. The room is a mess.

LITTLE MANUEL ORTIZ, the 118-pounder who meets Willy Pep at Braves Field on July 18, wears a small gold cross in his coat lapel . . . Fred Keating, the monologist who has been performing as a magician, is wonderful at The Balsams, the Dixville Notch luxury hotel . . . Mr. Keating's story is one of actor over agent . . . Fred started professional life as a magician . . . From the year he was twelve until two seasons ago, the obliging Mr. Keating gave in to superior money when bookers and nightclub owners insisted that he do a little magic, including his famous, copyrighted trick in which he makes a canary vanish in thin air . . . A few months ago, Fred made up his mind that he would accept only those bookings which would permit him to deliver an act of his own liking . . . Music Corporation of America and the William Morris Office, the two leading nightclub bookers, laughed him off.

* * *

BUT FRED GOT a booking on his own at The Balsams . . . In front of an opening night audience composed of millionaire refugees and cosmopolites from America, Mr. Keating proceeded to make his own judgment resemble a decision by a good non-New Deal Brain Trust . . . He did only a couple of palpably phony card tricks, and held the floor for 25 minutes with "talk" alone . . . Fred has the best routine of any monologist this department has listened to in 15 years—barring not even Benchley . . . Fred Keating—please mark well the name—is sooper.

* * *

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: Sally Keith is quitting the Crawford House this Saturday night, but the blonde (and famous) tassel-dancer signed a 44-week contract for a return engagement beginning next September 4 . . . Henry Freda, the owner of Freda's in Hanover st., has bought a Miami Beach restaurant which Bostonians next season will flock to as the replica of Boston's best-known downtown "Italian restaurant" . . . The best (and best-known) of the uptown "Italian restaurants" is Lena's in Massachusetts ave.

* * *

ANTHONY SANDRELLI'S GROTTO in the North End should be mentioned when Italian cuisine is mentioned . . . The Grotto serves a Spanish brandy which can't be found in any other place, and the antipasto with cheese-cuts, flavored with a Geoclar sauce, is making the epicures talk.

Beach Club Bake

To celebrate the opening of the Eel River Beach Club of Plymouth those popular socialite clambake artists, Ralph Hornblower and Sherman Whipple, were chief cooks at a grand holiday "bake" attended by their families and friends.

Guests sat around the beach fire stowing away quantities of mouth watering clams and juicy lobsters done to a turn in steaming seaweed. After sunset the crowd walked over to Mrs. Henry Hornblower's cottage to see some color movies.

In the congenial throng were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chamberlain, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bubbins, Mrs. Robert Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Brewster with their children, Lt. and Mrs. Spencer H. Brewster and Capt. and Mrs. Lothrop Withington, Jr.; Mrs. D. Whipple Frey with her family, Mrs. and Mrs. Russell T. Fry, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Meyer, Jr., and Mrs. Robert Meyer; Dr. and Mrs. Robert W. Coe with Lt. and Mrs. Frederick Coe; Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Middenorf, Sylvia Tower, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Campbell, Janet Greenwood, Lt. and Mrs. James Girdwood and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Barnes.

MRS. G. W. SMITH (Peggy Hangarter), mother of infant son.

* * *

The night before the Fourth was observed with an informal dinner dance at the Plymouth Yacht Club where guests included Mrs. William Hedge with her daughters, Susan, Lucia and Alice; Mrs. Louis Jaques, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Whipple, Mrs. George Yoeman, Mr. and Mrs. Fiske Mabbett, Miss Edith Morrisey, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stephens and others.

ROUND AND ABOUT

Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Buckley of Milton were holiday house guests of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Crocker, Jr., at Cohasset.

Master Roger W. Smith, two weeks old yesterday, spent his first Fourth of July receiving the admiration of friends and neighbors at the home of his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hangarter, West Newton. The infant and his mother, Mrs. G. Welch Smith (Peggy Hangarter) departed from Baker Memorial in time for the holiday. Lt. Smith is in the Air Corps overseas.

Mrs. John Case (Elizabeth Sage) and youngsters are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel McL. Sage in Brookline. Her husband is an Army officer.

Judging by the increased listings in the Summer Social Register for 1944 which is now in the mails, a greater number of families have been able to open their seashore and country homes this season. There are 715 more entries than in the 1943 edition. As in previous war summers yachts are omitted because there's no gasoline to run them and many pleasure craft have been turned over to the government for the duration.

Paper Troopers Open Hub Drive

More than 5000 boys and girls today were organized as U. S. Paper Troopers to spur Boston's waste paper collections for July and August. The youngsters were divided into groups and assigned duties at 150 city playgrounds, under direction of Joseph McKenney, associate director of physical education.

The Paper Troopers will canvass every household and neighborhood store during the week to urge everyone to prepare their bundles of paper for collection by public works department trucks during the week of July 17. A second call will be by the Troopers the day before the collection, to remind donors to place their bundles on the curb.

Curb collections will be made tomorrow in Canton and in Hull and Malden next Sunday.

Real Yank Spirit At Lake Placid

By JACK CONWAY

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., July 5—A day at Lake Placid. I am glad I had a calendar with me as it was so quiet on the morning of July 4 that I otherwise would not have known it was a holiday . . . Fireworks have passed out with the war . . . The youngsters who used to set off huge cannon crackers and Roman candles are now dropping bombs on Hitler's Europe and on islands in the Pacific which Tojo mistakingly thought were his for all time, or they are fighting on land or on sea in all parts of the world.

Austra Lake

An early morning breakfast at the Lake Placid Club and then to the Olympic arena to watch two youngsters could gain opportunity of the young Conways, Elizabeth and Carol, skate . . . Looking at the bobsled trophy in the lobby of the Olympic arena and thinking of the late Eddie Neil of Lawrence, a brilliant young sports writer of the AP who lost his life while acting as a war correspondent in Spain during the Civil War . . . It was Eddie Neil who made the famous run down a mountain slope here on the American bobsled that later competed in the Olympic games . . . He wrote such an excellent story of his experiences that he was awarded a Pulitzer prize . . . This fame led to the road to Spain and to his untimely death.

I thought of other sports writers, Dick Tregaskis, Jack Singer, Wes Gallagher, Sid Feder, Austen Lake and Huck Finnegan who have done so well as war correspondents in this war . . . Alan Gould of the A. P. told me that the sportswriters make the best war correspondents because they have great freedom in writing and give the action and color of war as they used to depict the thrills of football games, baseball contests and heavyweight championship fights.

Americans Like Parades

SITTING on a sloping lawn overlooking main street and watching the Fourth of July parade . . . There were the amateur skaters from every part of the United States and Canada carrying the flags of the Allied nations, the representatives of the American Legion, the Girl and Boy Scouts, the local fire and police details, the civic fathers in shiny automobiles, and, most important of all, veterans of this war back home from Africa, Italy, the Pacific and other distant battle fronts . . . I could picture similar parades being held in Boston, in Scituate and in every city and town in America . . . And I could feel waves of enthusiasm and pathos passing from these groups and from the crowds along the line of march to our fighting men overseas and in Army, Air Corps, Marine and naval camps in every part of this country . . . There is one main street that connects every section of America and on the Fourth of July the drum-beats, the notes from the bugle and marching feet are in unison.

Along the line of march there were refugees from every country in Europe . . . They had come to the United States to escape Hitlerism with its death and oppression . . . Some of the refugees were children and their parents were happy they had them in a land far removed from bombs, and the marchers were glad these youngsters could gain opportunity and safety here.

Harness Racing Popular

IN THE AFTERNOON to the harness racing course where fine standard bred horses did their utmost to win . . . My mind went back to Boston and to Tara and Desota, the two great standard bred horses that were owned by Paul Bowser and which he sold to an Italian syndicate . . . I also thought of Greyhound who was my idea of the greatest standard bred horse that ever lived . . . The competition was keen and the crowd enthusiastic . . . At Saratoga there are trotting and pacing races each night as race goers wait for the return of the thoroughbreds with the pari-mutuel machines and blazing finishes . . . Saratoga with its mountain setting and racing tradition will always have something that great city race tracks will never be able to attain.

Later to the Lake Placid golf club where I had the choice of three courses, two 18-hole courses and one nine-hole course . . . I settled for the nine-hole course and was satisfied when my score was not too bad . . . The New York State women's golf championship is being contested over one of the 18-hole courses . . . There is an exceptionally large entry list for this year's tournament which runs through Thursday while the trophies on display in the lobby of the Lake Placid Club are outstanding . . . Golf's greats asking to be remembered to Bill Grimes and to Fred Corcoran.

Dinner at the Lake Placid Club and a motor boat trip around the expansive waters of Mirror lake . . . A close-up of Kate Smith's camp, and the wish that I had the use of one of her four speed boats for a day . . . A Fourth of July tour of the bright spots and back to Lake Placid Club . . . And the wish that in another year the millions of American men and women in our service in all parts of the world will be home again with victory.

Sox, Tigers in Twi Tilt

By BILL GRIMES

After splitting a twin bill the Red Sox and Tigers play a twilight game this afternoon at Fenway Park. Yank Terry will be Joe Cronin's starting pitcher and Manager Steve O'Neil stated that he would counter with "Dizzy" Trout.

The Sox passed up a chance to move in on the Browns when they blew the opening holiday game. Clem Hausmann gave up on six hits, half of which came in the last two rounds. But, he went down to another defeat. On the other hand, the Red Sox combed Hal Newhouser for nine hits. If they had been able to apply a little more pressure in the third, fifth or seventh they would have had Prince Hal out of there.

MARGIN UNCHANGED

Fortunately for the Croninmen, the Athletics broke even with the Browns, after being shut out in the opener. So, the Red Sox are still only one and one-half games out of first place.

With two double-headers in three days and a very limited array of starting pitchers, Manager Cronin has to gamble with Terry this afternoon. If Yank can stop the Tigers, the Red Sox would be over the hump for this series, providing, of course, his mates are able to operate on Dizzy Trout, who is a pretty fair country pitcher and one who has been very troublesome to Tom Yawkey's hirelings.

Joe Bowman turned in his seventh win of the season in the second game yesterday. Joe was hit harder than usual, but Bobby Doerr was in a hitting mood and drove in five runs.

HOSE HAMMER PAIR

The Tigers hopped on Bowman for 10 hits but the Red Sox got 12 off Johnny Gorsica and one off Walter "Boom Boom" Beck, who pitched the last Boston inning.

Doerr's home run in the third with two aboard gave Joe Bowman a three-run margin to work on. But, in the fifth, Joe Bowman put two back and gave up another in the eighth. However, a three-run seventh gave the Red Sox a 7 to 4 verdict.

That trio of runs was tainted for, but for the fact that Eddie Mayo, the former Brave, forgot to cover second and a routine double play ball with one down, the Croninmen would not have tallied in that frame and, very possibly might have lost the verdict.

BOBBY DOERR DOMINATES THE SCENE—Showing the alert Bobby sliding safely into second base in the second inning of yesterday's first game. Shortstop Joe Hoover of the Tigers gets the ball too late for a play on Doerr.

Segura May Meet Talbert in Final

NEENAH, Wis. (AP)—Francisco (Pancho) Segura of Ecuador, and Bill Talbert, Indianapolis, who may meet in the finals, came through with second round victories yesterday in the western tennis championships.

Segura defeated Jack Snyder, Neenah, 6—2, 6—1, and Talbert won over Jack Broeren, Menasha, 6—0, 6—3.

Stella Walsh Defends Titles

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 5 (AP)—Winning streaks of five years' duration in the broad jump, javelin, and high jump will be endangered Saturday when the annual women's national amateur track and field championships open here.

Stella Walsh, competing unattached, will seek her sixth straight triumph in the broad jump; Dorothy Dodson, Chicago star, tries for her sixth javelin win, while Alice Coachman, of Tuskegee Institute, will endeavor to make it six in a row in the high jump.

In addition to the broad jump Stella Walsh also will defend her title in the 100 meter; and 200 meter events, with a new world's record as her goal in the 200 meters.

Entries already received by General Manager Earl J. Flickinger include ten girls from Tuskegee, nine from Philadelphia Moose, eight from German-Americans, five from Laurel Ladies' Club of Canada, two from Philadelphia Turners, and several unattached.

FORECASTING BALDNESS

This young man has a good head of hair and doesn't feel that he will ever be bald. Yet his scalp is laden with dandruff, itches constantly, and he loses a great deal of hair each day.

In a few years it will be too late, and his appearance will be permanently marred, a serious handicap to anyone. Don't let baldness come to you since scientific Warner treatment and proper care afterward can prevent it in most cases.

There is no charge or obligation for a private scalp examination and consultation.

Fees for treatment are very moderate and are payable as the treatments are taken—not in advance. There is a separate department for women.

Hours: Mon., Wed. and Fri., 11 a. m. to 9:00 p. m., Tues., Thurs. and Sat. 9:00 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Cards 'In,' Sox Cling to Browns' Heels

Pennants aren't won on the 5th of July and they don't pay off until October but Billy Southworth and Luke Sewell are the envy of every manager in baseball today as the St. Louis Cardinals and Browns sit on top of the world with the traditional Independence Day landmark behind them, according to the Associated Press.

The Red Birds are regarded as a shoo-in to the National pennant with a 10½ game lead but the Brownies face the toughest sort of a struggle from all sides, currently from the Red Sox who trail by only 1½ games after winning seven of 11 since returning to Fenway Park.

Southworth's Cards are hotter than the proverbial cannon cracker with six in a row, the latter pair at the expense of the Giants, 6-2 and 9-1. Mort Cooper, who has been overlooked because of a shaky start due to a sore arm, rang the bell for his seventh straight in trimming Harry Feldman and Harry Brecheen boosted his record to 6-1 by downing Rube Fischer in the second game.

Brooklyn's toboggan slide continued as the Dodgers slumped to their eighth straight loss by bowing twice to Cincinnati, 6-2 and 2-1 in 10 innings.

Chicago hopped out of the basement by three percentage points over the Braves by stopping Bob Coleman's crew, 7-1 and 4-2. Pittsburgh hung to second place by five slim percentage points over the Reds by taking the second game from the Phillies, 4-0 after bowing to Al Gerheauser in the opener, 3-2.

The Browns divided two with Philadelphia, winning the early game 4-0, and losing the final 8-3.

Cleveland beat the Yankees' prize rookies, Walt Dubiel and Joe Page, 3-1 and 7-2. Washington split with Chicago, the Nats scoring 2-0 behind Johnny Niggeling and the Chisox copping the second, 3-2.

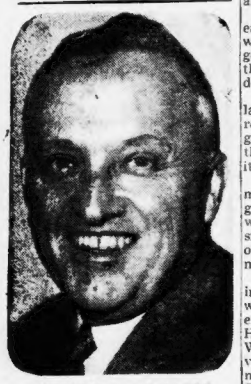
Fans Pour Millions Through Windows

By BILL SMITH

For the third consecutive racing day, the mutuel handle passed the million dollar mark as a gala holiday crowd of 29,948 poured $1,231,530 through the iron men yesterday afternoon at Suffolk Downs.



CHARLES F. CONNORS
Presides at Chi Meeting

The gates were thrown open early and crowd came loaded down with greenbacks which they wagered with bash recklessness as they fought their way to the windows in a steady stream.

This mad betting spree began last Saturday when the handle reached $1,013,838. It continued to gain in momentum when Monday's throng bet $1,137,358 and reached its climax on Independance Day.

The all-time New England mark of $1,543,979 set at Narragansett Park on Labor Day, 1943, was never in danger of being smashed and the Suffolk record of $1,401,760 established last Memorial Day was also above reach.

Another new high was reached in the win pool when $124,246 was bet straight on the feature event, the $25,000 added Yankee Handicap which was won by Whirlabout, an even money favorite. Patriotism was second but no match for the winner, and Bel Reigh finished in the show slot.

WHIRLABOUT JUST WHIRLS

Whirlabout, the speedy daughter of Pompey, was taken to the front at the start of the mile and three-sixteenths event by Jockey Herb Lindberg and despite repeated bids by Bel Reigh, shook off the latter and headed for home still in front.

Patriotism closed with a late rush to take runner up honors with Bel Reigh tiring badly but with still enough left for third position. Valdina Lamar, unbeaten in his three New Englands starts showed early speed but found the distance too far and wound up in fourth place.

Whirlabout covered the route over a lightning fast track in 1:57 2-5, two seconds off the track record held by Shut Out and paid $4.20, $3.40, $2.60. Patriotism paid $12.00, $4.00 and Bel Reigh, $2.60 on the end.

Longshot daily double players started off with a bang when Wapan, winner of the first race teamed up with Senior Prom, winner of the second heat to return $241.20 to 27! ticket holders.

Connors Rules Racing Parley

CHICAGO, July 5 (AP)—The National Ass'n of State Racing Commissioners convened here today, with President Charles F. Connors of Massachusetts presiding. The commissioners were guests of the Illinois racing board at Washington Park's Stars and Stripes Handicap yesterday.

John Thomas Stops Armstrong Surge

LOS ANGELES, July 5 (INS)—Henry Armstrong's pugilistic comeback was at a temporary standstill today following his loss of a 10-round decision to John Thomas, Los Angeles lightweight. Thomas' victory last night at Olympic Auditorium brought him a step nearer to the national lightweight title to which he aspires and avenged a defeat Armstrong handed him last April.

Clayton Farrar Wins N. E. Title

FALL RIVER, July 5 (INS)—Clayton Farrar, a Coast Guardsman of the New London, Ct., base, held the New England A. A. U. 15-kilometer championship today and a new regional record for the distance.

Farrar won in a field of 27 in 50 minutes and 11 seconds.

Woodward Sees Colors Win Again

William Woodward nearly saw his colors go up for the fourth straight year in the Yonkers Handicap at Jamaica yesterday, but his Bossuet lost by a length to Louis Nimoff's Alex Barth, $6.70, the second choice. Foxbrough won the 1941 running for Woodward and Apache in 1942 and 1943.

Conn Sees Pensive Bow

CHICAGO, July 5 (AP)—The little man who wasn't there caused no end of consternation yesterday at the Washington Park track as Pensive, the Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner, finished out of the money in the $59,350 Stars and Stripes Handicap, won by Georgie Drum, once a west coast selling-plater.

The tiny absent gent was Jockey Conn McCreary, who has made a habit of shooting the prize three-year-old Pensive up from nowhere to cash and glory. McCreary, injured in an automobile accident virtually on the eve of the big holiday race, watched, with some 36,000 other spectators, as Pensive found the going too tough against a crowd of fleet oldsters and finished fourth.

Freddy Smith, McCreary's substitute tried, his best to poke Pensive ahead in a rousing stretch drive, but Georgie Drum, flanked by Equifox and Irish-bred Rounders, last year's Stars and Stripes winner, refused to yield ground.

Georgie (Iceman) Wolf, imported from the East expressly for the race, brilliantly rode Georgie Drum to a one length victory over 7-year-old Equifox, when beat out Rounders by a length and a half for second. Pensive, touted as a stretch runner, appeared to tire in the closing drive and wound up seven and half lengths behind the winner.

Georgie Drum, five-year-old gelding which a couple years ago was running in claiming races for his owner, Allen Drumheller of Walla Walla, Wash., paid $8.60, $4.40 and $3.40.

Fenway Highlights

Clem Hausmann lost another tough game yesterday . . . Errors by Joe Cronin and Bobby Doerr were mainly responsible for the first and second Detroit runs . . . But, Hausmann has no one but himself to blame for the ninth inning rally staged by the Tigers.

He loafed on "Doc" Cramer's infield tap, which put Rudy York, who had walked on third and Cramer on first.

Doerr, who made a perfect toss to the bag to get Cramer was charged with the error . . . Hausmann allowed only six hits before he was relieved by Frank "Red" Barrett with two on and none out in the ninth . . . "Red" got the Tiger in order.

With the storm approaching, it was very dark when the Red Sox came up for their last shot at Newhouser . . . And, Hal got them out without undue trouble, after Jimmy Bucher was nipped trying to stretch his infield hit, when Mike Higgins' throw got away from Rudy York.

It was excellent timing on the part of the weather man to have the rain arrive between the games . . . Pete Fox hit safely in both games thereby running his streak to 15 games . . . Earlier in the season, Pete hit safely in 13 straight games . . . A large squadron of fighter planes put on a show and stopped the game in the Detroit's half of the second inning.

George Metkovich crashed into the center field wall trying for Rudy York's two-base smash in the fourth . . . Fortunately, he wasn't injured. He's a tough Croatian . . . Win Green, the Red Sox trainer, raced from the bench to administer first aid and spent the rest of the afternoon recovering his breath.

"WOLVES" ON THE LOOSE

A total of 56,621 pay customers trickled through the gates at Fenway Park yesterday and Sunday . . . The "wolves" were in fine voice yesterday . . . They were in a more amiable mood after Bobby Doerr's three-run homer in the third . . . It was Bobby's eighth circuit clout of the season and it landed high in the screen.

One of the slowest of all time double plays was the Bucher to Doerr to Finney twin killing in the fourth . . . Jimmy took a full wind up but got the slow moving York by yards and then Bobby could have autographed the ball and still had time to double up Bob Swift.

The fans gave Clem Hausmann a fine round of applause when he retired the Tigers in order in the opening inning . . . Many of them had witnessed Clem's wild streak in the first round against the Browns last Saturday . . . Hal Newhouser was plenty "quick" and when he got his blazer ball in tere, he was unhittable.

Immediately after Sunday's doubleheader, Joe Cronin ordered Groundskeeper Roland Robinson to recondition the pitchers' mound and the area around home plate . . . Hit balls were taking off the pitchers' mound and topped swings were bouncing too high to suit the "Skeeper" . . . Jimmy Bucher made a fine play on Hostetler's bunt in the first inning . . . He came in fast and yelled to Hausmann "I got it" . . .

Before he rolled out to Newhouser in the first, Bob Johnson gave the fans a thrill with a terrific line drive which went into the screen but on the wrong side of the foul post . . . The ball was as well tagged as any Bob has hit this season . . .

Callahan Case Causes Beef

NEW YORK, July 5 (AP)—Southern scribes and baseball men are all stirred up about the Dick Callahan "case," first because the $15,000 bonus the Red Sox paid the New Orleans youngster was more than any independent minor league club could hand out and because it set other kids thinking in terms of $15,000, and secand because of the "handling" of Callahan.

Bill Keefe of the New Orleans Times-Picayune argues that the shellacking Dick took in his debuf at Louisville may have set back his career a couple of years . . . On top of that, 15-year-old Joe Nuxhall, after a brief trial with the Reds, was set to the Class A Birmingham club . . .

Garden State Opens Meeting

CAMDEN, N. J., July 5 (AP)—Garden State Park opened its third wartime season today, offering the customer everything the law allows except a way to get there.

The sky was clear and the track's general manager, Walter Donovan, said he wouldn't be surprised if 15,000 potential bettors turned out for the eight-race card, which featured the six-furlong $7500 added Camden Handicap.

Last year 6521 opening day customers walked, rode in hay wagons and jammed the only bus line to Garden State despite rainy weather. Before the season ended a daily mutuel record of $1,500,000 was set, however, and Donovan predicted it would be broken early in this 50-day meeting.

1,102,192 Fans Out on Holiday

By Associated Press

More than 1,102,192 sports fans pushed their way into baseball parks and race tracks over the three-day July 4 holiday.

This is an increase of 184,219 over the 917,973 spectators who turned out during the three-day Memorial Day holiday.

Led by a two-day turnout of 346,828 for 16 major league doubleheaders, a tota lof 593,411 paid their way into the ball parks of the American and National leagues as well as those of the five top minor circuits, the American Ass'n, International, Pacific Coast, Eastern and Southern Ass'n. Other thousands attended games in the Class B pony, Interstate and ledmont loops.

BET $24,950,000

Turf followers to the number of 508,781 jostled into 13 race tracks over the three-day span, betting an aggregate of $24,950,0000, an increase of $2,715,689 over the $22,234,311 tossed into the pari-mutuel machines Memorial Day.

Other thousands of sports hungry fans saw fights in New York, Los Angeles, Galveston, Chicago, Baltimore and Newark, N. J. Still more attended the people's regatta on the Schuylkill river in Philadelphia and the Red Cross tennis exhibition matches at Forest Hills.

The largest turnout in yesterday's 172,891 major league attendance was at the Yankee Stadium where 37,579 saw Cleveland whip the Yanks twice. Other crowds included 31,718 at Chicago, 24,195 at Boston, and 23,858 at Philadelphia.

Yesterday's betting at the country's race tracks—$8,947,344 by 199,418 persons—was the second largest on record. It is topped only by the $10,326,027 wagered Memorial Day.

37,876 AT JAMAICA

The biggest race crowd yesterday was 37,876 at Jamaica, compared to Belmon't 52,029 on Memorial Day, but new betting records were reported by Arlington, $1,740,293; Delaware, $1,213,996; Detroit, $688,512, and Long Acres, $217,503. The handle at Jamaica for seven races totaled $2,551,278 and at Suffolk Downs in Boston $1,231,530.

Entire Net Take Goes to Two Funds

NEW YORK (AP)—Alex Barth, a 2 to 1 second choice, beat the favored Bossuet yesterday to capture the $10,000 Yonkers Handicap before 37,876. Boysy was third in the five-horse field with Poperboy and Famous Victory out of the money.

Action Awaits Park Leaguers

After a layoff of four days the Boston Park Department Baseball League will swing back into action tonight with every team in the loop playing.

The high point of the four games on the card will be the battle between the Navy Yard A. A. and the Watertown Arsenal. As of the last few weeks the Arsenal nine has been playing a stellar brand of ball and may soon prove to be contenders for the top honors with the Navy Yarders. Although holding a comfortable leading margin in the standings, the Navy nine will be out to halt the victory surge of the gun makers. The tilt will be played at Lee playground in South Boston.

The Dick Casey Club, who consistently field a well balanced team and who now hold the second place slot in the league, will journey to Draper park to battle with Hick's Engineering. Although the Engineers have had more or less poor luck through the season they are due to move up in the standings very soon and a victory over the Town Fielders would assist them no little.

The remaining games on the docket for tonight have Bill Benson's Linehan Club, a fast aggressive outfit, as the guests of Lawley's at Garvey Field, Neponset, while the West Roxbury A.A. will clash with the Trailways at Cleveland Circle.
